

by artwork from our collections!

*Detail from Untitled by George Ahgupuk
UA1981-3-50*

This is a detail of an untitled painting from 1981 by the Iñupiaq artist . It shows walruses, an animal hunted in the artist's home in northern Alaska. The complete work shows many other animals. It is painted on fish skin.

This is a painting of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge by titled Guardians of the Valley. Brody painted it in 1993 using oil and alkyd paints on canvas. He painted it while on location near the Canning River in the wildlife refuge.

Guardians of the Valley by A.W. "Bill"

and What color(s) is it?
to draw pictures of the sky in the
frames below.
looking at the sky at different times of day!