The church, with the incense, makes me feel...
 I'm in heaven on earth. The candles that glow lightly catch many people's eyes. The smell reminds me that life has just begun, with another year ahead of us.

Julia Wassillie

A new culture here.

There are ways to fight losing your culture. You need the courage to join forces with others who are going through the same thing. You must unity, come together, and be strong. Keep a good positive attitude. The tools to preserving your heritage are not museums. They're people. You need to know your language and your land. Take the time to do this. I urge you.

Michael Morry

the next generation will just live in dreams - that may never come true.
Julia Wassillie

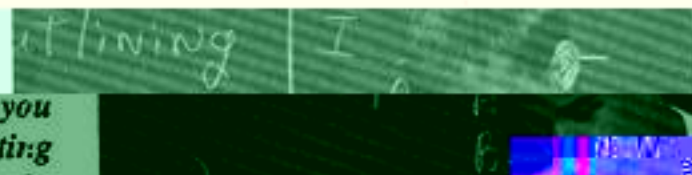

.. What they did throughout their lives, still made them take pride in their work and their respect for others. They told me, "You become a hard worker or else you do nothing when you pray alone."

...Thirty years ago, my lifetime. I've lived and traveled to large cities. In my eyes, the advantages outweigh the disadvantages. ...The City is also full of many interesting people. On a walk through the streets you can meet a street bum with an interesting past, or a street artist who likes to be of riches" and look at homes worth more

... She really liked animals. She had a bunch of chickens and each of them was named. She had two cats, Princess and Nubbins, which she loved dearly. Every night she'd call for the cat
